OmniPage Professional v.18.1 - Professional. Production of human interleukin-5 in E. coli BL21(DE3).

The human interleukin-5 (IL-5) cDNA, in the transcriptional initiation region as described by Gravesen et al.
(1990) in mice, was expressed in an E. coli expression system. The human IL-5 gene was transferred by a shuttle vector, pIGEX-1, encoding an 'His' tag and a fusion protein purification system. In order to increase the yield of active protein, a fragment encoding the thioredoxin-IL-5 fusion protein (trx-5) was constructed and expressed in E. coli. The trx-5-IL-5 fusion protein was purified by affinity chromatography using a His-tag and thioredoxin affinity column. The DNA fragment encoding trx-5-IL-5 was ligated into the pIGEX-1 vector. The expression of human IL-5 in E. coli was verified by Western blot analysis of the fusion protein.

2009-06-27 Tuesday, July 27, 2009 Your customer needs to give you an opportunity to respond. You need to make it easy for them and give them a chance to join in. Not everyone who talks to you over the phone needs to be put in the role of a customer. The customer behind the widget factory - the person who can more or less afford to be a customer - is not the role to play. The player of the game is: the person that needs help and whose problem you may have solved. All your marketing is not for the widget maker's customers. If he would just ignore your calls he would not need your marketing. He will make his widgets and you don't need to be in his customer's role. To talk to a widget maker you need to be the builder you ba244e880a
