When you want to get the easiest way of file sharing, you do not need to use a server, you can use this software to transfer files between your computers. It is more convenient than a file server, not only does it allow you to send files by email, but you can also use it to view the contents of the files, and this is often a lot more interesting than watching a big file that is too large to see in your computer. It can let you manage multiple files at the same time, because of the fact that you have a folder browser, and this allows you to move or copy files in this folder. You can also share files through the Internet, so you can use it to share files with others, or to open them in a safe manner, using your FTP or GFWL account, or even do not want to open the files at all, because they can be opened using their protocols. Your files can be encrypted, so that you can access them even if someone steals your device, and you can also secure your files, so that they are safe from hackers and others. You can easily add the files you want to send, simply by adding the recipient's email address and the files will be sent to the recipient after. You can also search for your files in this program, so you do not have to search for the files you want to send, and you can also view the files you send to the recipient and give a receipt of any changes made to the files you send. This is a program that does not need an additional license, and you can easily use it without spending more money. If you want to get some instant help, you can always get it by calling their customer service and you will be provided with the immediate help you need. So, you do not have to do any additional effort to get help. It is very easy and hassle free. You will find that it offers great services, and you will not be disappointed.
